2015 Festival Gathering of Biblical Storytelling

August 5-8, 2015
Near Washington, DC

One Story, Many Voices

Telling the biblical stories to and from diversity.

What is the Gathering?

The Network of Biblical Storytellers annual conference, the one and only Festival Gathering, is an openly welcoming, ecumenical event that has celebrated the Bible as story for over 37 years. It is packed with dynamic workshops, networking, thought-provoking keynotes, inspiring worship built around the Bible's stories and almost non-stop opportunities to tell and hear Bible stories.

Pastors, laity and Christian educators will find opportunities for enlivening conversation and new storytelling skills for education and ministry. Receive a refreshing awareness of the Bible as story, plus new storytelling ideas for worship, Sunday School, Bible study and small group leadership. Expect joyful interaction with other creative souls from across the nation and the world!

More Info

The 2015 Festival Gathering will be held August 5–8 at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Maryland, a fully handicapped accessible, family-friendly conference center near America's capital. Some rooms are equipped with bunk beds for the kids and there's even a game room! See our website for more details.

While you're at the Festival Gathering, your family can easily access the attractions of Washington from the Chevy Chase location utilizing bus lines and the DC Metro system. Families can enjoy the historic monuments, Smithsonian, national spy museum, national cathedral, delightful ethnic restaurants and other attractions while you attend the conference!
